Wants to Know Real Status of Monroe Doctrine and Like Amendments.

Special Desputch to Tun Bun WASHINGTON, March 18 .- The Senate, ecording to members still in Washington, is mystified by developments of the last twenty-four hours at the Paris Peace Conference. They do not know at this hour whether the Monroe Doctrine is to be specifically guarded and guaranteed by the league covenant, now ing revised, or whether it is to go by the board. They do not know whether the league covenant is to be so framed that there will be no infringement of American sovereignty or whether it will be seriously jeopardized.

The one conclusion upon which they agree is this: There is strong opposition to the shelving of the Monroe Doctrine and the other amendments upon which he Senate has made it plain that it will st. Seme of the Senators express ndignation that the American Senate. the body equally powerful with the Ex-scutive in the formation and acceptance of international instruments of every kind, is kept in ignorance of the real discussions of the Peace Conference. Benator Johnson (Cal.) was particu-larly bitter on this account to-day. He said it was outrageous that the real situation in Paris was carefully guarded and kept away from the knowledge of the Senate. Mr. Johnson and other Sen-ators want to know exactly whether the Monros Doctrine is to be specifically safeguarded; if it is not the exact scope and extent of the opposition in the Peace Conference; whether American sovereignty is to be specifically guarded from encroachment, and if it is not for what reasons. he body equally powerful with the Ex-

These Senators have been informed by iblished cablegrams that the question limitation of armaments is to be limitation of armaments is to be ANSELL IS SNUBBED pject, not orders from the executive incil of the proposed league. Frankly they do not know how much faith to put in that report, as it has been their experience to have these "agreements" of the conference suddenly overturned ompletely.

They recognize that in the Monroe

Doctrine and its retention the Peace Conference has hit the greatest stumbling block probably that it will encounter. They realise, they admitted to-day, that it is impossible to have a league such as the President wants and still leave the Monroe Doctrine unimpaired. How ever, they have chosen to stand by the preservation of the Monroe Doctrine, and the league covenant, if it is to be accepted by the Senate, must be so drawn that any conflict with Ameri-oan control of the Western Hemisphere public a snub he had administered to is done away with entirely.

The Senate is watching with great interest the developments in England in connection with the league covenant discussions. So certain are some of the Senators that there has been no wavering in the ranks of opponents of the President's ideas on the proposed league that it was privately stated by some Senators and publicly by one that nine-tenths of the amendments suggested by Senators and publicly by one that nine-tenths of the amendments suggested by Senators and publicly by one that nine-tenths of the amendments suggested by Senators and publicly by one that nine-tenths of the amendments suggested in the covenant before it received Senatorial approval. Senator-elect McCormick (III.) openly made this assertion. It is a matter of modifference to the Senate whether these amendments are made in Paris or in the Senate itself.

Trustees have had many unpleasant experiences during the last few years, both with high class bonds and with unguaranteed mortgages.
